

Practice 11: Array Code

Assume an integer array A has been read in which has 100 distinct positive elements. Write code that will determine the second largest value in A. (You can destroy A if needed.)

```
const int COUNT = 100;
int A[COUNT];
// reading in of A omitted
```

Hint: start by working out how to determine the largest value in A.