

Practice 12: Array Code

Assume an integer array A has been read in which has 100 positive elements. Write code that will determine how many different elements there really are in A, ignoring repeats. (You can destroy A if needed.)

```
const int COUNT = 100;
int A[COUNT];
// reading in of A omitted
```