

Practice 19: String Code using Pointers

Write a function using pointers that will take a string and reverse it. For example, if the function is called with “enyaw” then it alters the string to “wayne”.

```
void reverse( char *s)
{
```